

RESEARCH

Consistent with its size and diversity, the College of Humanities and Social Sciences engages in research and creative activity across a multitude of disciplines and disseminates the outcomes through publications, conferences and exhibitions across the world.