

Zayed University Learning Outcomes (ZULOs)

Zayed University Learning Outcomes (ZULOs) frame the unit's mission to prepare educators for the 21st century. All students of ZU graduate having met these university learning outcomes.

The six ZULOs

•Leadership:

ZU graduates assume and support leadership roles and responsibilities in a variety of life situations and accept accountability for their results.

•Language:

ZU graduates communicate effectively in English and Modern Standard Arabic, using the academic and professional conventions of these languages appropriately.

•Global Awareness:

ZU graduates relate to communities beyond the local, perceive and react to differences from an informed and reasoned point of view, and are critically aware of the implications and benefits of cultural interaction.

•Critical Thinking and Quantitative Reasoning:

ZU graduates use information, reasoning, and creative processes to achieve goals and make responsible decisions.

•Information Technology:

ZU graduates are critically aware of the implications of information technology on the individual and on society, and are able to use IT to communicate and solve problems in an ethical way.

•Information Literacy and Communication:

ZU graduates recognize information needs, access and evaluate appropriate information to answer those needs, and communicate effectively to a variety of audiences in both English and Arabic.
